HOUSE PASSES NEW TARIFF BILL

Adoption Follows After Stormy Session of Four Hours

15 DEMOCRATS JOIN

Bill Is Practically Identical With the Fordney Measure—Bill Now Goes To Senate

Washington, April 16.—Republican leaders, supported by all except eight of their party and by 15 Democrats, pushed the Young Emergency Tariff and Anti-Dumping bill through the House late yesterday. The vote was 269 to 112 with two members voting present.

Passage of the measure came at the end of a stormy session, during which a handful of Democrats, aided by a few Republicans, had harassed the leaders of the Republican side persistently for more than four hours. Charges that the Republicans had bowed to the "dictation of the Senate" were hurled not only by Representative Garrett, Tennessee, acting Democratic leader, but by Representative Newton, Minnesota and Representative Luce, Massachusetts, both Republicans, as well.

The battle was later continued when Representative Mondell, Wyoming, Republican floor leader, announced a plan for the House to meet tomorrow to receive a report from the Immigration Committee. This was objected to by Mr. Garrett, who said the Republican members of the Immigration Committee had acted without first having organized their committee. Democratic committee members had not been selected, Mr. Garrett asserted, urging that the report, said to be on the Immigration Restriction bill, be delayed unntil "Democrats have a chance to see it." After half a dozen exchanges Mr. Mondell agreed to wait and the House adjourned until Monday.

Heated discussion marked the tariff debate, which revealed a wide split in the Texas delegation. Several Louisiana members also supported the tariff program. The discussion was particularly pointed when Representative Connolly, Democrat, Texas, chided his colleague, Representative Hudspeth, for "deserting his party."

Besides Mr. Hudspeth, the roll call showed the following Democrats voting for the tariff: Parrish, Blanton and Jones, of Texas; Dupre Favrot, Martin and Lazaro, of Louisiana; Smithwick, Georgia; Taylor, Colorado; Lea, California; Clark, Florida; Campbell, Pennsylvania; Lankford, Georgia, and Deal, Virginia.

Republicans voting against the bill included Stafford, Wisconsin; Tinkham, Massachusetts; Perlman, Volk, Ryan and Siegel, of New York; Luce, Massachusetts, and Keller, Michigan.

The Maryland delegation followed their party alignments. Representatives Linthicum and Goldsborough, Democrats, voted against the bill. Representatives Blakeney and Hill, Republicans, voted for it and Mr. Hill announced that Mr. Mudd was unavoidably absent but was in favor of the measure and would have so voted. Representative Zihlman, Republican, was recorded as absent.

Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee, precipitated the charges of Senate dictation when he declared the Senate would accept no changes in the bill as it was passed last session, not so much as 'a crossing of a "t" or the dotting of an "i." Those are instructions," he added.

Mr. Newton, who had the floor, retorted that he would not "surrender judgment and intelligence both" on a question on which he felt he was right.

"That admission by Mr. Fordney is the most amazing I have heard in my 18 years' experience in the House," Representative Garner, of Texas shouted. "It appears that the Constitution is being violated, for it says explicitly that revenue measures must originate in the House, and here we have the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee admitting frankly that the bill was dictated by the Senate.

"And further, Mr. Fordney's statement means that hereafter no bill can be amended in this House if the Senate leaders will that it shall not be changed. It means we must bow to the Senators' wishes whether or not amendments have merit."

Mr. Garrett described the position in which the House was placed by Mr. Fordney's statement as "indefensible," adding that all discussion in the House later will serve no purpose.

The bill as passed by the House is practically identical with the Fordney measure vetoed in the last Congress by President Wilson. Protection would be given a number of agricultural products, including wheat, cotton, sugar, wool, corn cattle and sheep, but the bill would be operative for only six months instead of the 10 provided for in the Fordney measure.

The anti-dumping provisions also were not included in the Fordney measure, together with a system for estimating the duties imposed on the basis of the American value of foreign coin as determined by the Secretary. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Entertains Class

Miss Regina Gorman Hostess to Thirteen Graduates at St. Mary's Academy

One of the first of a series of social functions to which the graduates of St. Mary's Academy have been looking forward, occured Wednesday evening when Miss Regina Gorman of the class '21 entertained her classmates at a delightful supper at her residence on Duke street. The charming informality of the evening rendered it most enjoyable. The subdued lights, soft music and gay spring flowers formed a pleasant back ground for the daintily clad belles of S. M. A.

Covers were laid for thirteen, the hostess not being at all superstitious. The class colors of gold and silver were effectively carried out in the decorative scheme of the table. A great bowl of yellow snap dragons and fern formed the centerpiece around which small golden baskets of almonds were grouped as favors. Even in the menu the color scheme was tastefully carried out.

Reminiscences of the good times in "Ye Goode Olde School Days" formed the chief topic of conversation.

After a cosy half hour spent in the "den" the girls bade a reluctant fare well to their gracious hostesses, Mrs. Gorman and Miss Regina, all are eagerly looking forward to a box party which is to be given soon. Miss Gorman's guests were: Miss Mary Armour of San Diego, California; Miss Rosella Burke of Rosemont; Miss Catherine Grace of Washington, D. C.; Miss Ruth Middleton, of Waldorf, Md.; Miss Kathleen Quinn, of Alexandria, The Misses Elizabeth and Josephine Ramage of Alexandria; Miss Christine Raherson of Birmingham, Alabama; Miss Arvid Samuelson, of Culpeper, Va., and Miss Alice Mackey of Rosslyn, Va.

Fire at Braddock

Roland Goode's Residence Damaged To Extent of $3,000—Two Firemen Hurt

Damage estimated at $3,000, was done by a fire at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a tthe residence of J. Roland Goode, North Braddock and two firemen were injured. The injured firemen are Julian Chauncey, who had his leg badly injured when the hose wagon started down hill when hose was being taken from it. The second man who received injuries was Edward Lawler, a bricklayer, who was helping remove the household effects from the place when a big refrigerator dropped on his right foot.

The fire started in an attic on the upper floor and where a quanity of rugs and other winter effects had just been stored.

Spontaneous combustion is thought to have been responsible for the blaze. The firemen confined the blaze to the upper part of the house. The lower floors, however, were badly damaged by water. The roof of the place and upper story was gutted. Chief Ogden accompanied by part of the fire department went to the scene and the firemen and volunteers saved practically all of the effects in the house. After an hour's work the firemen subdued the fire.

New Chairman

L. H. Parsons Heads Noteholders Committee of W. Va.

Washington, D. C. April 16.—The noteholders protective committee of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company yesterday elected Lewis H. Parsons, of Graham, Parsons & Co., Philadelphia, chairman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Howard S. Graham, It was announced, following the meeting, that the noteholders had agreed on plans for future financing of the company which will be submitted to the directors at meeting to be held in Baltimore next Friday.

The directors meeting scheduled to be held here last Wednesday was postponed because of the death of Mr. Graham, A number of members of the noteholders committee are also members of the board of directors.

Questioned regarding prospects for paying interest on the underlying bonds, now in default, a member of the committee said yesterday that at present the company barely is earning operating expenses and that early payment of this overdue interest is largely dependent on the outcome of the pending petition for increased rates.

Mrs. J. K. M. Norton entertained at a beautiful tea yesterday afternoon at her home in Prince street, for Mrs. Alexander H. Sands, of Richmond, who is the house guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Judge and Mrs. Norton.

JAIL DELIVERY IS FRUSTRATED

Harry Fuller Armed With Saws and Files Nabbed at Jail

CAME TO SEE PRISONER

Had in His Possession Letter Giving Him Explicit Instructions—Fuller Held For Grand Jury

A man giving the name of Harry Fuller, eighteen years of age, and claiming Baltimore as his home, was in the police court today held for the action of grand jury because when he called at the city jail yesterday to see a prisoner named Oscar Gnatt, one of a trio held for the action of the grand jury on a charge of endeavoring to burglarize the clothing store of Julius Wolf, 425 King Street he had in his possession one hack saw and two files.

Another search of the prisoner made today by Sergt. Cox and Warden Candler disclosed an additional hack saw which was secreted in the shoe of the prisoner.

When Fuller called at the jail he was met by Jailor William E. Candler. His suspicious action caused Jailor Candler to place him under arrest and he was brought to police headquarters and searched. In addition to hack saw and two files the police found the following letter giving him instructions regarding the bringing of the files and saw for the attempted jail delivery. The letter is dated April 13 are reads as follows: Dear Harry: I want you to come down here and before you come buy 6 hack saw blades (Black Diamond hack saw blades). Buy them at any hardware store, they will cost about fifty or seventy-five cents, and I am sending you $2 and that will pay your way down here too. After you get down here I want you to get a pint bottle, and get in front of some policeman and drop it. He will lock you up and your fine will be $5 and Iwill pay it. When you come in here. Bring them with you. Put them in the bottom of your shoes or put them inside of your false leg. They don't do anything but feel all over the outside of your clothes. Whatever you do don't put them in your pocket or they will find them.

If you don't want to do that come down here and find out where the jail

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The Y. M. C. A. is to offer free physical training to all Pioneer troops in the city. The boys will have their first lesson at the Young Peoples' Building Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Some new gymnasium apparatus has been secured and it will be used for the first time at this meeting of the youngsters.

There are three troops now in Alexandria, and the prospect is very bright for another troop real soon. There are about 50 boys now enrolled in the three troops already formed. The physical training course given the boys will be quite thorough and will include marching and maze running, calisthenics, light and heavy gymnastics, corrective gymnastics, athletics and games.

Pioneer buttons have been ordered but have not yet been received, and pending their arrival all Pioneers must be vouched for by the leaders in order to get into the class Monday night. The ladies' gymnasium class follow the Pioneers at 8 o'clock as usual.

The Sunday school base ball league will have its second meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening, April 19, at which time the executive committee will be definitely organized. At a recent meeting a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested by the different schools and four teams are assured, with a fifth and sixth possible. Any Sunday school is invited to send representatives to the meeting Tuesday evening.

The "Y" sprung quite a surprise on the boys at the free "movies" at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. One of the films failed to show up and at the last minute Secretary Wallace secured a "Chaplin," much to the delight of the youngsters. The same film was shown to the girls this afternoon.

Tag Day a Success

Hundreds Sold on Streets Today For Irish Relief

The Ireland Relief Fund Drive in Alexandria took a jump today. Everywhere one could see the fair young ladies of the city bedecked in their gayest clothes and telling everyone their mission with the brilliant green sashes they wore. The drive took a jump because they were on the jump and kept the business man, the merchant the passeroy, in fact everyone was on the jump and the worthy cause got a big boost.

The work of selling tags will end tonight. The headquarters of the committee, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, was a scene of activity today as it was here the tags were distributed by a committee of ladies of which Mrs. Clarance French is chairman.

A DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL

Last night in the basement of the First Baptist Church, a most delightful social was given by Mrs. Sidney Mankin to her large class of girls. Tables were spread and every care was taken that the affair should pass off in the most approved way. Games were played and a most delightful repast was furnished.

The class is steadily growing. Indeed a record attendance was noted at the Sunday School on last Sunday morning. It is becoming increasingly necessary to make extensive additions to the church plant of the First Baptist Church. The members in the Sunday School are limited only by the space in the building.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear little girl, AUDREY L. ROBERTS, who left us seven years ago today, April 16th.

Oh, for a look at your sweet little face,
One word from your dear little lips,
And a touch of that dear little vanished hand,
That is now at rest in the promised land,
Thank God our heart breaks cannot last forever,
Some blissful day our weepings will be over,
And when our Shepherd brings His flock together,
She will be mine once more.

Mother.

Pupils of the fourth grade, Washington School, under the direction of Miss Grigg, yesterday visited Alexandria-Washington Masonic Lodge room to study the relics there.

They were received by George W. Zachary, tiler, who made a splendid address to the boys and gave much valuable information on the relics.

Master Laurence Brawner expressed the appreciation of his class for the kindness shown, and, after singing, "Beautiful America," the boys left, delighted with their visit.

PASSOVER

Passover the feast of unleavened bread, is to be celebrated this year beginning Friday evening, April 22, and continuing a week the concluding service of the holiday falling on Friday, April 29.

The festival of Passover, called in Hebrew "Pesach," reaches back to remote antiquity when it was observed by the early Hebrew tribes as an agricultural spring festival. At an early period Pesach was transformed into a festival celebrating the redemption of the Hebrews from Egyptian slavery.

By connecting this festival with the wondrous deliverance of the Hebrews from the Egyptian yoke, new intent was provided for its observance. The festival and the ritual ceremony observed during the seven days in which it is celebrated among Reform Jews, or eight days among the Orthodox, is not only identified with the Exodus of the children of Israel from Egyptian tyranny but further symbolizes joy in the triumph of liberty and freedom over oppression and slavery.

The festival of Perach was used by the synagog as a means of consecrating the Jewish home to God, who is regarded as the Redeemer and Protector of Israel. The story of the deliverance of their forefathers from bondage and slavery reminded the Jews of God's providential guidance and gave them confidence in their final redemption from all oppression and woe.

The Passover feast endowed the Jew ever anew with endurance during the dark night of medieval bigotry. This trust in the "Keeper of Israel" who slumbereth not nor sleepeth, sustained the Jews during the severest hardships. Upheld by the confident hope that Israel's glorious redemption opened the gateway of liberty to all who are oppressed. Passover came to be regarded as the festival of liberty for all mankind.

"During the Passover week the "Matzoth," unleavened bread, is eaten. This food, described as the "bread of affliction," is a symbol reminding the present generation of the hasty Exodus of Israel from the land of oppression.

The feast of Passover is ushered in with a home ceremony, the "Seder," held on the eve of Passover. All members of the family participate in its observance. The ritual of the Seder includes the reading of a richly adorned tale of deliverance, "The Hagadah," wherein the various events leading up to the Exodus and immediately following are told.

The "Seder" celebration radiates an exuberant spirit of thankfulness and joy. The symbolism of the Seder reflects the circumstances of the enslavement of the Children of Israel in Egypt as well as the hopeful outlook for the final triumph of freedom for all mankind.

500,000 R. R. MEN ACCEPT RULING

Shop Craft Executives See Decision as Victory For Labor

ROADS APPROVE

Decision Sumbject to Severe Criticism In Several Quarters—Predicts New Era

Chicago, April 16.—Abrogation of the National Agreements between the railroads and their employes, announced yesterday by the Railroad Labor Board, was officially accepted last night by the executive council of the shop trades in a statement which hailed the decision as a great victory for labor, declaring it did not impair labor's economy or social status. About 500,000 men are employed in the shop crafts.

During the day the railroads, through the conference committee of the Association of Railway Executives and through statements from the heads of individual roads, approved the decision as a whole, although criticizing certain features of it.

The attitude of the shop trades council, however, apparently was not shared by all labor leaders. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued in New York, declared that the board must have been influenced by big business," while others termed the decision the "work of the steel trust" and criticized it severely.

The labor board itself expressed satisfaction over the fact that the decision apparently had met with some approval from both sides, declaring that this indicated that it had at least opened the way to permanent industrial peace between railroad employes and employers.

The decision of the board to permit individual conferences between each road and its employes instead of granting labor's request for one national conference was said by board members to have been the only course open to the board.

"There is nothing in the law to authorize the board to set up a national conference or a national set of agreements," said a member of the public group. "Every railroad has the allienable right to negotiate with its own employes if it so desires, and every American citizen has the right to make his own terms with his employers if he so desires. Neither could be bound by concerted action on either side."

The board also let it become known that while the set of 16 principles which the decision said should be part of any agreement was written by Henry T. Hunt, of the public group, it had been approved by every member of the board.

The statement issued by the executive council of the shop trades follows, in part:

"Railway employes can accept the decision because it involves no impairment of their economic or social status. Indeed, to have this code promulgated by a governmental agency, such as the United States Railroad Labor Board, means more to organized labor than any code that has ever been established in any industry. It is a vindication of the fundamental principles for which we have contended consistently and persistently, and its acceptance in good faith by railroad management will mean that the public interest will be fully conserved.

"One of the greatest sources of gratification to us in the decision is the rebuke to the minority group of railroad executives who have been more interested in a misguided effort to destroy the labor organizations of employes than they have in securing the co-operation of railway workers and in operating the railroad properties entrusted to their su

Summer Cannot Be Very Far Off.

Yesterday John Sharp Williams, the veteran Senator from Mississippi, appeared in the streets of the national capital in a new straw hat.

The day before practically all the high officials of the nation shut up shop and went out to see the President throw the opening ball and Walter Johnson get knocked out of the box.

Police circles all over the country report a steady rise in the number of automobile accidents on country and suburban roads.

Cornet beating is going on in the neighbor's back yard.

Housekeepers and housemaids say that they are beginning to have difficulty in keeping the tracks of certain bare feet cleaned off the floors.

And certain of us who know where a young man's fancy turns of a summer twilight may have seen increasingly large numbers of strollers on the country lanes.

Only the first palm beach suits, organdies and bathing suits are missing from the scene to make it summer.

"Loses $1500 if stork calls within the next year" is the headline in the papers. Probably will lose a lot more than that by the time the doctor's bill is paid and the first pair of baby shoes bought.

The safe contained $100 and valuable papers and books. The State police of Troop E are working on the case.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Louis Kraft Dies in Germany—Mrs. Barker Dies—Miss De-vaughan Buried

News has just received in this city of the death of Mrs. Fannie Calmus Kraft, wife of Louis Kraft, which occurred at Kaiserslautern, Germany, December 12, 1920. Mrs. Kraft was a former resident of Alexandria and she and her husband left Alexandria seventeen years ago and since that time have lived in Germany. The deceased was well known here where she had many friends.

Mrs. Emma C. Barker, seventy years old widow of John Barker, died last night at the residence of her nephews, W. T. Fansburg. Her funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock Monday afternoon from her late residence. Burial will be in Bethel cemetery.

Funeral services for Miss Alice C. De Vaughan, who died Thursday, took place at 10 o'clock this morning at the residence of her brother-in-law, John W. May, 209 North Washington street and were conducted by Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South. Burial was in Union Cemetery.

SEVERE TEST APPLIED TO FLOOR COVERING

Will it wear? Just now this question is being asked by hundreds of persons in connection with the demonstration being given Neponset which has been placed on the sidewalk in front of Rinen's store, C. Page Waller proprietor, and in front of other places on King street.

The makers of this floor covering want the public to be satisfied regarding the merits of their product and for this reason they have adopted the most severe test possible, that of having the public walk over it day and night. That it will stand up under this severe test the makers guarantee and they expect a big demand for Neponset.

Must Give up Betrothed Or Income On $250,000

Boston, April 16.—Miss Annie Fitzpatrick, of Cambridge, must give up all idea of marrying Crawford Dearth of that city, to whom she is reported engaged, or sacrifice the income on $250,000. This choice is forced upon her in the will of her father, the late Francis X. Fitzpatrick, a prominent real estate operator of Cambridge, it was made known today.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, in his will makes it plain that, for some reason not given, he does not want his daughter to marry Dearth, although in the document he has taken pains to set forth that he wishes to "cast no reflection whatever" upon the man.

This rigid condition comes as a tremendous surprise to both the daughter and to Dearth, and Miss Fitzpatrick is in a quandary as to what decision she shall make.

The full estate represented about $600,000. Mr. Fitzpatrick died March 4. His son James shares in the bulk of the property. If Miss Fitzpatrick decides she will marry Dearth, she is allowed to receive $100 a month under the terms of the will.

LONE VETERAN DIES

Reading, Pa., April 16.—Peter Readinger, 30 years of age, a World War veteran of the 79th Division, who was found ill with tuberculosis in a shack in the mountains nine miles northeast of Reading two weeks ago, by members of the American Legion, died last night.

JUDGE SETS THREE YEARS AS VALUE OF 8 QUARTS

Atlantic City, April 16.—Eight quarts of whisky will cost Albert E. Stevenson, 125 Westminster Avenue, from one to three years in the State Prison. Such a sentence was passed on Stevenson yesterday when he was convicted of stealing the private supply of Roy Hassan, a hotel engineer.

Stevenson learned of the stock of the engineer and stated yesterday to Judge Ingersoll that its possession became a mania with him. During Hassan's absence he entered the room and took the liquor, together with a toothbrush and razor.

ADMITS SLAIN WIFE TOLD HIM HOW TO PAD PAYROLL

Cincinnati, O., April 16.—William Carr Dawson, on trial for the murder of his wife, confessed on the witness stand today, that for two years he had padded the payrolls of the Cincinnati Chemical Company and that his wife, who occupied that position while he served in the navy, taught him how to do it. Bank books showed deposits aggregating more than $2,000 in two months. His salary was $36 a week. Dawson denied that he shot his wife to keep her from exposing him when her suit for divorce would be heard.

Dawson shot his wife upon learning that she had filed the suit

LURE OF SIDEWALKS CAUSES MAN TO JUMP TO HIS DEATH

Boston, April 16.—The lure of the pavements, as viewed from hotel windows above, claimed one more victim yesterday when Emmett Jones, registered from Waterville, N. J., at the Hotel Essex, dived from the fifth floor of that hotel to the street.

Jones fell on to a large glass canopy over the main entrance, bounced off on to the top of a passing automobile, and fell into the gutter. His skull as fractured and he was taken to the city hospital, where physicians held no hope for his recovery.

TREASURY CERTIFICATES HEAVILY OVERSUBSCRIBED

Washington, April 16.—Nearly 700 per cent. oversubscription to the April 15 issue of 5 1-2 per cent, six months Treasury certificates of indebtedness was announced last night by Secretary Mellon. Preliminary reports, he said, indicated that subscriptions would total $290,000,000 for the issue, which might make possible a reduction.

The heavy oversubscription was interpreted at the Treasury as an indication of conditions in the money market which might make possible a reduction in the interest rate of the next issue of six months certificates at 5 1-4 per cent.

VIVIANI'S MISSION ENDS; WILL SAIL NEXT WEEK

Washington, April 16.—The mission of Rene Viviani, envoy extraordinary of France, to the United States, was officially brought to a close yesterday with his paying final respects to President Harding at the White House and to Secretary of State Hughes at the State Department.

While no official comment was forthcoming upon the results of the mission of the former French Premier, it is understood that the French envoy feels that in his task of furthering the spirit of co-operation between France and the United States, his efforts have been attended with success.

Viviani will sail for France from New York next week.

Barber Gets Five Days For Charging Customer $6.15

New York, April 16.—Magistrate Corrigan decreed yesterday that a barber who presented a bill of $6.15 to a customer desiring only a shave should spend five days in the workhouse.

Harry Rose, the barber, tried to justify his charge by saying he had given the complainant a haircut, shave, shampoo, massage and "steams, and had liberally anointed him with tonics and aromatic waters.

"No more fines for you fellows," broke in the Court; "the limit of the law is what you'll get."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The High School Track is fast nearing completion. The team is going good. Just two more weeks and we lock horns with our deadly rivals, Manassas High. On the 29th of this month, we meet Manassas on our field in the third annual Track Meet. We are going up against a more formidable array of adversaries than ever before, in that they are last season's Eighth District Champions. We want our town people to come out and give us a good backing. We want to win this meet. We expect to win it, but come out and see us try.

"Bob" Midkiff has been elected Captain of the team. For distance work we are putting more faith in him than in any one else, though Moore, Cockey and Myers are surely pushing him hard. Suthard is our mainstay on the dashes. He is ably backed by several very competent men. Oz Oliver, Pohl Wade and Pettitt the responsibility of the weight contests rest. Midkiff, Suthard, Newland and Oliver are doing some great broad jumping these days.

The Eighth Congressional District Meet has been postponed until May 14th as the May 7th date, is in conflict with the State Meet at the University.

In the list of contributers to High School Athletics for the past season one name fails to appear. That is the Dreadnought Athletic Club, which so generously gave the entire receipts of the A. H. S.—D. A. C. basketball game a sum of about $65 to the Athletic Association. We wish to thank them, and hope for a success-ful season for them.

Arbor Day was observed at H. S. on Friday. Twelve young trees were planted on this occasion. An appropriate program was arranged by Miss Garvin and was as follows:

"Explanation of Arbor Day," by Chas. Houston, "The Planting of the Apple Tree" by Miss Sweig; "To the Oak" by Miss Murphy; Solo "America the Beautiful," by Miss Outcalt; an original essay by Mr Myers, "The Coming of Spring" by Miss Davis and "Beauty" by Miss Wolf. The purpose of Arbor Day is to beautify the surroundings of public buildings. "As all know, there are few who have a better opportunity to display talent along this line than the students of A. H. S. We hope that this good start will not stop until we have put the high school grounds at the top of the list of 'Beautiful Places in Alexandria.

People of Alexandria, We want you to get behind your own school, take an interest in it and its students. Help build up athletics in it and you will have a better school, when you have a better school you will most certainly have a better city. The high school belongs to you, why not then take an interest in it and its welfare? We now have a track, we have a good track team, we have scheduled two good meets. Now, think about it, talk to a high school student about it everytime you get a chance. You will then become interested in athletics, then school, and then the school will be some interested in you. With every body working together we can have a better student, a better citizen, a better school, and last but in nowise least, we can have a better City.

"The Last Lap" will be on sale as usual Monday.

"Mike" Houston.

Shot Husband, She Confesses to Detectives

Washington, D. C., April 16.—"God forgive me, I shot him."

With eyes reddened by weeping and features drawn from sleeplessness and worry, Mrs. Lydia Gertrude Melavi, 22 year old widow of Abdul Hassin Molavi, confessed to the shooting of her wealthy husband in a room on the third floor of 1314 Rhode Island avenue northwest, late Thursday night.

The confession was made to Inspector Clifford L. Grant, chief of detectives, in his office at the District Building shortly after seven o'clock last night.

After admitting to the police that she had fired the shot which resulted in the death of her husband, Mrs. Molavi pleaded with Inspector Grant and Detectives Cornwell and Flaherty to permit her to see the body of her husband. Despite the fact that they explained to her that the morgue was a gruesome place, she continued her pleadings and her request was granted.

Mellon, Head of the Treasury

Andrew W. Mellon, the new secretary of the treasury, is one of the wealthiest citizens in the country.

The three big Mellon banks have followed the line of business laid down by Thomas Mellon, who, in the middle '80s, founded the house. Mr. Mellon is, or was, an officer and director in corporations with a capitalization of $1,613,674,464. He pays the largest income tax in Pennsylvania.

In appearance he resembles a college professor. He is tall and spare, with a closely-cropped gray mustache. He is fifty-nine years old and the father of two children, a girl and a boy. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, a patron of art, and is associated in the management of the Carnegie Institute, the great libraries and other educational projects in and around Pittsburgh that the ironmaster poured forth his millions to establish.

Thirty years ago Mr. Mellon built an oil pipe line to fight the Standard Oil, clear across the state of Pennsylvania. From Marcus Hook the Mellon company ships its oil in its own tankers to all parts of the world.

On the Monongahela river, near Pittsburgh, is the town of Donora, with a population of 15,000. Mellon chose this spot for an iron and steel plant. He built the town.

Prospective Mothers who prepare carefully with Mother's Friend make Child-birth easier.

It is recorded of the primitive American Indian women that child-birth with them was entirely painless.

But this should not be—because

THE RENT COLLECTOR

RENT collecting is a branch of the real estate work that appeals to many young women who are interested in housing problems, and several such have entered it from settlement work. The landlords find that women make better rent collectors than men, that they get closer to the tenants, and that they promote a better understanding between the parties to the renting business.

Rent collecting is not a mere turning up at the first of the month with the demand for the rent. It is to the interest of the landlord that the houses he owns be properly run and kept up, that undesirable tenants be ejected, and that the right kind get right treatment. Women are good at getting results in these directions. It is usually the woman of the apartment who pays the rent; it is she who has complaints to make or alterations to demand. And she speaks more freely to another woman, and the other woman understands better the usual problems of housekeeping. It works well both ways.

A rent collector is in a position to know more than most persons about vacant apartments, various types of renters, possibilities of development, bargains. There are really fine business opportunities in this line, and women should study them.

How Do You Feel—When You Stoop?

Slow and sluggish movements, tired action, backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints or sore muscles indicate that something in the human system is out of order. In most cases, these symptoms are the result of waste matter or poisonous acids being left in the blood by the failure of the kidneys to properly do their work of filtering and casting out impurities from the blood.

STOPPED HIS BACKACHE

"I am 70 years old. I tried Foley Kidney Pills, thinking I needed them—as my back was hurting and aching all the time. I got so bad that when I would stoop over in the store while at work I could hardly raise up—such an awful catch in my back. After taking just one bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, my backache was entirely gone and I felt good and strong. I think they are the greatest remedy for backache and irregularities of the bladder."—W. P. Tatom, R. F. D. 1, Washington, Pa.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

have been used by young, middle-aged and old with complete satisfaction. You will find them different from all other remedies. They act quickly and surely and have given relief in cases of years' standing. If you have cause to suspect your kidneys are weak, disordered or inactive, you should act immediately.

Man Smoking, Leaps off Brooklyn Bridge as Cameras Click

New York, April 11.—While motion picture cameras clicked on the deck of a tug in the East river yesterday, Daniel Carone, 27, of Mount Vernon, puffing a cigarette, leaped from the center of Brooklyn bridge and was picked up in the water, 133 feet below alive, and unharmed. It was his second jump from the structure, the first being made in 1915.

A policeman saw Carone spring from an automobile on the south roadway and climb a steel girder. He shouted and ran toward him, but before he could reach him Carone plunged into space.

Carone said he also had jumped but saw his body strike the water. He soon appeared and began to swim toward the tug. In 50 strokes he had reached the craft and was hauled aboard amid cheers.

Carone said he laso had jumped off London bridge and High bridge in Glasgow, Scotland.

England to Urge Japan to Yield
On Yap Mandate

London, April 16.—There is a belief in well-informed quarters here that the British Government will soon hint to Japan that she will interpret her rights in the Island of Yap in the spirit, rather than in the letter of the law, it will not only relieve His Majesty's Government of considerable embarassment, but will probably provide a basis of agreement with the United States. In Government quarters, however, there is complete silence on the subject.

At the next meeting of the Allied Supreme Council the question of Yap and mandates in general will be taken up.

DRIVE FOR UNIONIZING STEEL PLANTS ON JUNE 19

Washington, April 16.—The active campaign of national and international organizations in the steel industry affiliated with the American Federation of Labor to unionize the steel plants of the country will begin June 19, the executive council of these unions decided at a meeting here yesterday. This action was decided upon, it was said, notwithstanding unemployment and depressed industrial conditions.

The council decided to lay the foundation for the new unionization work by immediately launching a nation wide "educational drive" among the thousands of steel workers of the country, especially those now unemployed.

The steel campaign will be opened with a meeting of the executive council at Denver, Col., at which time the organization program and the location of the steel committee's national headquarters will be definitely announced.

Samuel Gompers, 71
To Be Married Again

New York, April 16.—When Samuel Gompers goes to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Denver in June he will take with him as his bride Mrs. Gertrude Ainslee Gleaves Neuscheler, daughter of Thomas J. and Mary Gleaves, of Zanesville, Ohio, but now a resident of this city. The engagement, rumored for some time in labor circles, was yesterday confirmed by Mrs. Neuscheler and Mr. Gompers. The date of the wedding has not been announced beyond the statement that it will be before the Denver convention.

Mr. Gompers, who is 71 lost his first wife through death a year ago. Mrs. Neuscheler was separated from her first husband by a divorce. She has no children. Mr. Gompers is the father of six through whom he has several grandchildren.

Behind the announcement of the engagement is the story of an old acquaintance, made in the course of Mr. Gompers' work as a labor advocate and renewed in this city last fall. The pair first met many years ago when Mr. Gompers lectured in Trenton, then the home of the bride's parents. After the lecture, Mr. Gleaves, a student of economics, was among those to congratulate the speaker. Thereafter for many years, the two were close friends, until the Gleaves family moved to Ohio.

Thereafter, for several years, Mr. Gompers and his fiancee did not meet. Last fall, several months after the death of Mrs. Gompers, the two met again at the home of a mutual friend. They met frequently afterward, and two months ago those in the inner circles of the labor movement began to hear whisperings of a possible engagement. These were denied by Mr. Gompers and Mrs. Neuscheler until today.

Mrs. Neuscheler, a blonde, with wealth of golden hair, is highly educated, a painter and a musician, ranking high as a teacher of the piano. During the war she was active in patriotic work here and abroad.

The Gompers' home will be in Washington, where Mr. Gompers makes his headquarters.

Possessing Single Drop
Of Liquor Violates Law

Petersburg, Va., April 16.—Having one drink of contraband whisky in one's possession in this city subjects him to arrest and prosecution on the charge of violating the prohibition laws, according to a ruling here yesterday of Commonwealth's Attorney Syme and Police Justice Clements.

This drastic interpretation of the whisky laws follows the ruling of these officials several weeks ago that the person who bought contraband whisky was just as guilty of violating the prohibition laws as the person who sold it.

As yet no arrests on today's ruling have been made, the police officials holding that inasmuch as the law had been violated through ignorance many persons believing they could have a quart in their possession, strict observance of the law would not be put in effect until the public had been warned. From now on, however, a crusade will be waged against whisky law violators, and those caught with only a small quantity will be dealt with just as severely as other violators by Judge Mullen in the Hustings Court, who backs the ruling of the other officials.

Since the police directed their efforts against persons who bought illicit whisky bootlegging in Petersburg has shown a marked decrease, and the new ruling, the police believe will do much towards stamping out the whisky evil in this city.

Several persons have been arrested for purchasing whisky and are now awaiting trial in the Hustings Court.

'HELL MARIA' DAWES IS MUSIC MASTER

Chicago, April 16.—Since Gen. Charles G. "Hell Maria" Dawes told a Congressional committee how America fought the war, certain unnamed persons have been trying to "get" something on him.

Friday they published the fact that the general has written two popular two steps and that he is an expert flutist.

A current whistleable tune entitled "Melody" came from his pen, it is said, and his authorship of the "March and Two Step in E Major" was also recalled.

Max Fischel, violinist, confesses that he arranges the musical general's compositions and he declares that Gen. Dawes is a flutist of exceptional merit.

Some FACTS About

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921 and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced		Delivered to Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883		57,208
FEBRUARY	35,305		63,603
MARCH	61,886		87,221
Total Production	127,074	Total Retail Sales	208,032

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

WILL URGE BOAT LINE RESUME ON RAPPAHANNOCK

Richmond, April 16.—The State Corporation Commission will this morning hear the request of citizens living along the Rappahannock river, that boats from Baltimore to Fredericksburg be resumed.

Prior to the war regular service on the stream was conducted by the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway, but during the period of the trouble with Germany and since, there has been no boat run.

Major Forward and Commissioner Adams left yesterday afternoon for Urbanna, where the hearing is to be held.

Call For Disarmament Conference Is Proposed by House Resolution

Washington, April 16.—A resolution urging President Harding to invite Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to a disarmament conference here was introduced yesterday by Representative Rogers, of Massachusetts ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. It also would declare that "until a program for the reduction of armaments is agreed to by the principal nations of the world, including the United States, it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Congress that the United States should have a navy second to none."

If work stopped on the present building program, Mr. Rogers said, "we would in five years have a navy decidedly inferior to Japan's."

'ACCIDENT' VICTIM BELIEVED MURDERED

Atlantic City, April 16.—Several arrests are expected, police say, in the mystery surrounding the finding of the body of Heinrick von Bickler, 55 years old, storeroom clerk of the Hotel St. Charles, on the outskirts of the city early yesterday morning with a wound in his head.

While the detectives at first thought that von Bickler, a German alien, known here under the name of Henry Buehler, had been the victim of an accident, they now think he was murdered. Investigation has shown that he carried a large sum of money about with him.

The murder theory is borne out by the fact that there were no bruises on the body except on the head. The man's clothing was not soiled as it would have been if he had been dragged by a trolley or automobile. A cloth cap found near the body bore no signs of blood.

One fact that is puzzling the detectives is that his watch and six dollars in money was not touched. This first led them to the belief that the man had not been murdered. Later it was learned that he had been accustomed to carry a large sum in a vest pocket fastened with a safety pin. The pin was found, but no money.

LESS CLOTHES WORN WARMER YOU KEEP

London, April 16.—The fewer clothes you wear, the higher your temperature, is the assertion of Sir James Cantlie, eminent medico, in a lecture entitled, "The Body in Health," at the Institute of Hygiene.

Discussing the fairy like garb of women and girls of today, Sir James said:

"Those young women you see going about insufficiently clad are not cold. They art hot. I once took the temperature of two girls sitting at an open window in the train. I had a rough time getting it—but I got it.'

BLIZZARD IN COLORADO

Gale and Snowfalls From 6 to 19 Inches Deep Are Reported

Denver, Colo., April 16.—Denver and this section of the West yesterday was in the grip of one of the worst blizzards of the year, a gale of 42 miles an hour and the outlook was for more snow and lower temperature, according to the weather forecaster.

Snow also fell in southwestern Wyoming and in parts of Kansas and Nebraska. The temperature at Cheyenne was 32 degrees.

Six inches of snow has fallen in Denver and the storm shows no signs of abating.

Colorado Springs reported a snowfall of 19 inches, 20 inches fell at Palmer Lake and 18 at Silverton, Colo. The Moffat railroad is blocked by 3 inches of snow at Corona, Colo., the "top of the world."

Seven miles of telephone poles south of Denver fell under the heavy gale.

's. Lock at the front door and look all over the wall good and the window that you can put them in is right in the back of the ajil on the inside of the wall. It has a little peach tree about twelve or fifteen feet tall right beside it. When you get this letter answer right away.

"If you can get inside of the wall lay the saws in the window. Wrap them up in a handkerchief or some kind of cloth. There is never anyone around the jail after 10 o'clock to stop you. If you can get inside of the wall it will be the best way, but if you have to break a bottle give them another name so the jailer will not know you by the name I have been writing to, see. Expecting you some time this week, so don't fail me. Put the date that you expect to be here on the front page up in the left hand corner so I will know when to look for you. the letter was not signed.

The letter before it left the jail was intercepted by Jailor Candler who was entirely familiar with its contents. All letters leaving the jail and received are inspected by the jailor. The writer evidentally was not familiar with this procedure.

Fuller stated today he was not positive who wrote the letter, although he said the only one of the trio of prisoners held for the Wolf robbery he knew was Gantt and he thought it was written by Gantt.

Little Rock, Ark., April 16.—James A. Eck, pardoned by former Governor Brough after serving 14 months of five years' sentence on charges growing out of the whole sale swindling of Northern tourists, today pleaded guilty in Federal Court to a charge of using the mails to defraud. He was fined $1,000,000 and sentenced to a year in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

THE WOODS

BY DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE SOUL.

I FIGGER the soul of a man is the same underneath of a coat er a shirt,
An' I figger the heart thet pumps life through his frame is the same under di'monds er dirt.
Fer his face may be homely an' tough be his hide an' busted the bridge of his beak,
But the Soul of the cuss is a-settin' inside
an' awaitin' its moment to speak.

The Soul of the cuss is a-settin' 'way back, until maybe the lobster fergits
There is any such thing as a Soul in the shack to take note of his devilish fits.
But amuck with the gang, on the long,
mooch alone, then it follows his footsteps to see;
God Knows thet I tell what I know, fer
my own it has risen an' spoken to me.

It has risen an' spoken its speech by the light of the meckerin' flame of the fire;
It has come with its voice where the lamps glittered bright on a mob thet was drunk with desire.
Fer I know not the hour thet the visitor brings—in the night, in the day, it is near;
It has come when no step stirred the stillness of things, it has come when a hundred were here.

An' it knows all the past, ev'ry step of the road I have traveled the years thet are gone;
In the springtime of youth it was there when I sowed in the fields thet was yellow with dawn.
It has followed my trail in the woods an'
the town, it has stood by my side at the bar,
It has followed my trail either up hill or down, an' has judged of my' deeds as they are.

So it stood by my side in that old-time affair when the night turned to red in my eyes,
An' it knows jest how much of my story was square an' it knows jest how much of it lies.
Fer it saw the blow fall, an' it saw the steel shine, an' it saw the thing lean to its goal—
You can fool all the world with a yarn such as mine, but you can't tell a lie to your Soul.

I have spit on the doors of their law-makin' shops, I have spit an' have laffed at the law;
I have drunk with their sheriffs an'
played with their cops, with my life
as the stake in the draw.
I have traveled their streets in the glare of the sun, while the he-hounds were hot on the track—
I have shaken them all, shaken all but the one, but the one thet will never turn back.

Fer the world may fergit, er the world may not know, er the world it may kapw an' not care,
But forever beside me wherever I go still another walks close who was there.
Yes, the deed may be done an' the deed may be hid, may be hid by the snows
an' the sod,
But the thing thet I planned an' the thing thet I did one Witness will whisper to God.

They know me back home as a man who is dead an' who passed in his checks as he should,
An' I answer up here to a new name insted thet in every way is as good.
I have shaken the teeth of the hounds of the past, fergotten like all men who die,
But I know thet my Soul will be there at

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Music floats in at the window,
My heart which was weary and sore
Is soothed by the strains—
I'm so thankful
They have a victrola next door.

How He Found It.

"How did you find that medicine I prescribed for you?" asked the doctor of one of his patients.

"Rather expensive, doctor," was the reply

A Cold, Sore Throat

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest. Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use.

What would you do with it?

If constipation were a lighted bomb, would you carry it out with you waiting for someone to put it out? No. You would get rid of it as quickly and effectively as possible.

But constipation, though not so sudden in its effect, is an insidious and grave danger. Leading medical authorities agree that ninety per cent of human illness is caused or aggravated by a clogging of waste in the bowels, and that pills, castor oil, laxative waters and salts only force the bowels and bring greater weakness afterward.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger."

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

Master of the Highway

The world's stock car record for speed now belongs to Paige—and Paige alone.

When our "Daytona 6-66" model thundered down the beach at 102.8 miles per hour, it proved itself not only a marvelously fast car, but a superlatively good car.

Only giant strength and endurance could survive such a heroic test.

So these are qualities that you will find in any Paige 6-66.

We invite you to take one thorough demonstration behind the exclusive 6-66 motor and make a record of the tests.

Then ride in any other car—at any price—and compare the results.
